The redesign of the Kunsthausplatz in front of the Kunsthaus building by Jozef Legrand, and the long-lasting construction site as a result of this, was the departing point of focusing on the building itself. Artists have been invited to deal with the concrete space of the Kunsthaus. How can Kunsthaus Dresden – Städtische Galerie für Gegenwartskunst be thought and used in a different way? Auxiliary Constructions – Behelfskonstruktionen questions the spatial conditions, the properties and potentials of the house. The site-specific works that will be produced for this show approach the architectural setting and put it into question.

Curated by Petra Reichensperger. Assistance: Ulrike Jordan.
